If we don’t get our relationship with God right, according to his Word, and this both on an individual and a collective level, we have no hope of progressing spiritually.