And if we don’t get our relationship with Christians, both genuine and nominal, just right, and this also according to God’s Word, then any relationship we may think we have with God is in very grave danger of falling apart, if it hasn’t already done so.